Dear Gabe:

Yesterday, Fairchild's forensic expert Erich Speckin reviewed all of the documents Klas Eklund produced in this case, including the hundreds of pages in Dr. Eklund's old binders and the early documents originally marked as trial exhibit PX-37 (later re-marked at Fairchild's request as separate exhibits PX-29 and PX-30). We previously agreed to permit Mr. Speckin a full range of forensic inspection of these documents, including micropunch sampling/testing, microscopic inspection, photographing, and the like, but Mr. Speckin chose not to do anything more than inspect the documents with the naked eye. Given that both parties brought forensic experts out to California for the inspection and that Mr. Speckin had unfettered access to the documents, we expect that Mr. Speckin's work is finished. To that end, if you intend to provide any testimony from Mr. Speckin, please provide us with his report no later than Friday, February 16. If we do not receive any written report from Mr. Speckin by that point, we will presume Fairchild does not intend to introduce any testimony on this issue. If Fairchild later seeks to introduce any such testimony, we will move to preclude it, as the delay will have prejudiced our ability to prepare for trial.

Sincerely,

Michael R. Headley
